About the Project

At FAIRevolution international training we will use digital storytelling to address socially and globally relevant topics:

- social and economic inequality,
- environmental sustainability and climate change,
- diversity and inclusion,
- migration.

On the first day, we will introduce the digital storytelling method and the tools that can be used to implement it (podcast and video recording, comic drawing, interactive story). At the same time, we will also present the applications that are already available so that participants can use the method later on.

Each of the four topics will be covered for at least one day during the training. In the morning, we will learn about the topic through the use of different methods:

- the digital treasure hunt method
- the journalist conference
- the election rally
- the quiz

In the afternoon, participants will work in groups to develop a digital story (using the digital storytelling method) based on the topic covered in the morning. The training will also use ice-breaking methods that participants will be able to use later in their work.

The training is based on the FaiRevolution toolkit, which was developed in 2023 in the framework of the Erasmus+ Small Partnerships project and is published on the Fairshare platform. The training will be delivered by experts in the field of global learning and experts in the use of digital tools.

Participant's profile

One of the most important things is the motivation to participate and have an interest in the topic. It is an intense program so one needs to be willing to dedicate to it fully. The training will gather 20 participants from 5 EU countries (4 per country).

We are looking for people who:

- already work with young people or groups or are interested in becoming youth workers, trainers or active volunteers,
- are 18 years old or above,
- have a good enough understanding of English to be able to follow and participate actively,
- have the desire to gain new skills and learn about themselves,
- are willing to fully participate throughout the whole training which consists of 5 working days from 29th of May to 4th of June.

Our objectives

During the training, youth workers will gain knowledge and experience in the use of the digital storytelling method, which is also applicable to other activities.

At the same time, they will gain additional insight into current social and global issues and identify with them through the creation of their own digital stories.

Raise general socially and globally relevant topics awareness among young people and improve their ability to cope with problems.

Increasing the level of self-awareness of the participants in a practical way and enabling the development of different competencies.

To empower youth workers by providing concrete tools and develop a greater understanding, connected to socially and globally relevant topics, to be able to give better support to young people in their local communities.

At the end of the training, we will collect the digital stories created during the training and publish them on our website.

LOGISTICS AND FINANCIAL CONDITIONS

→ Costs:

We will cover all essential costs of the program (including accommodation, food and travel costs up to a maximum amount per country).

→ Food:

The meals will be, to the best ability, adapted to the participants' needs and diets.

→ Travel:

All the selected participants will get an infosheet with detailed instructions on how to get to the venue and there will be assistance available from the project coordinator.
