"JOREARTE"

DESCRIPTION OF THE WORK: During the first week, the focus will be on initial training and preparation. In the mornings, theatre workshops will be held covering acting techniques such as body expression, voice management, improvisation and character development, as well as dramatised reading and analysis of the texts to be performed. In the afternoons, group dynamics will be organised to strengthen coexistence and time will be allocated to the creation and design of the Festival's signage. This period will allow the artistic and organisational foundations of the event to be consolidated, promoting both technical learning and teamwork. In the second week, priority will be given to the celebration of the Jorearte Festival and the performance of the show. The afternoons and evenings will be dedicated to travelling to the different locations for volunteer activities during the festival. At the same time, in their free time, participants will be able to enjoy guided tours and cultural dynamics, combining stage work with recreational activities that allow them to get to know and enjoy the surroundings. This planning seeks to balance artistic and logistical dedication with the cultural and personal enjoyment of the volunteers.

"THE PAPER TRAIL I"

DESCRIPTION OF WORK: You do not need experience to participate in "Paper Road". You will work with an archaeologist and historian. The volunteer camp takes place at the foot of the mountain, in the Paular valley, a place historically linked to the Los Batanes estate as a model of industrial development such as the use of different hydraulic devices to take advantage of water energy. This is where the galley proofs with which the first edition of Don Quixote was published were produced. Why participate in our field? In "Camino de Papel", participants will carry out a series of specific archaeological activities in different locations with the aim of discovering archaeological remains based on previous research. For 15 days, you will be able to enjoy a special vacation, meeting people from other regions and countries. Tasks: Clearing and cleaning of existing vegetation, both inside and outside and around the perimeter of archaeological structures. Manual cleaning and scraping of construction parts (walls, floors, etc.). removing vegetation that is harmful to architectural elements. If archaeological objects are found, they will be collected, documented, and stored for later study. Excavate certain structures using archaeological methodology, developing strict stratigraphic documentation of the levels of deposition and the construction units that may exist in the subsoil. In this process, all archaeological material will be collected. An archaeological survey is also planned. Register all archaeological material collected for research and subsequent storage in the Regional Archaeological Museum of the Community of Madrid, as established by current legislation.

"BIOLOGICAL BALANCE AT THE VILLA CASTORA HOSTEL"

DESCRIPTION OF WORK: Come to our camp if you feel that... Natural resources must be cared for, protected and used in a responsible and rational way. In this field you will be able to get started on a project to create an ecosystem designed for the production of food and other raw materials, where perennial plants such as trees, shrubs, herbaceous plants and climbing plants interact with garden species. This project will be developed in the area around the "Villa Castora" hostel, located in a privileged enclave on the way to the Roman Road in the Sierra de Guadarrama. Why participate in our field? In the field "Biological Balances in the Villa Castora Youth Hostel", volunteers will be able to design, using species such as trees, bushes, etc., an ecologically sustainable space in the surroundings of the "Villa Castora" youth hostel, imitating a natural forest in terms of its diversity of structure and functions. In addition, the construction of an insect hotel will encourage the appearance of small pollinators that will help increase the biodiversity of the space. For 15 days, you will be able to enjoy a special vacation, meeting people from other regions and countries. Tasks specific to the field of volunteering ü Analysis of areas to regenerate damaged ecosystems and prepare the edible forest, cultivating shrubs, trees, herbaceous plants and climbers. Design, assembly and installation of information panels on biodiversity spaces: vegetable garden, edible forest and insect hotel. ü Installing an irrigation system on planted shrubs and trees. Building an insect hotel: placing the boards. ü Review and development of spaces to promote biodiversity.
