Who Are We Looking For?

- Passionate youth (ages 18–29) who care about community service, youth development, social innovation, or technology (especially AI).
- Young change-makers who are already involved in local or international youth projects, volunteering, student leadership, or social initiatives.
- Passionate contributors who want to connect with youth in Hong Kong to exchange ideas and refine their pitching concepts through cultural dialogue and shared learning.

Why You Should Be Part of This

- Discover a unique platform for global youth to connect, learn, and lead.
- This program empowers delegates with innovative ideas and meaningful cross-cultural exchanges.
- Engage deeply with local communities and expand your leadership skills.

Background of C&Y Catalytic Pitching

The C&Y Catalytic Pitching echoes the theme "Thriving C&Y Conference." It amplifies youth and children's voices, emphasizing authentic intelligence.

Centered on "Making catalytic impact for a thriving future," it follows three core principles:

1. Equip youth with mindset and skills to express their voices.
2. Provide a platform to connect with like-minded stakeholders.
3. Empower them to actualize ideas, creating real change in daily life.

Your role (as Overseas Delegates) in supporting the Hong Kong Pitching Team

Connect & Co-create online (Mid-July)

Join online sessions to share your ideas and give feedback to help your Hong Kong team shape and strengthen their pitch.

Represent Global Voices (during the camp)

Bring your perspective and help create a more inclusive, cross-cultural impact story to support the Hong Kong pitching team to prepare for their presentation idea.

Leave a Lasting Impact

Your involvement is more than support—it's part of building a global network of change-makers who learn, grow, and act together in the future.
